The Northern Strand Community Trail is currently 7.5 miles in length and runs from Everett through Malden, Revere and Saugus to the Lynn line. When fully realized the “Strand” will travel close to twelve off-road miles connecting trails along the Charles River to the Lynn waterfront.

The Everett and Malden segments of trail are paved while the Revere and Saugus segments are currently compacted gravel. People use the trail to bicycle, walk with their families, jog and on the paved segments rollerblade and skateboard. Motor vehicles are excluded.

The “Strand” is part of the East Coast Greenway a trail network reaching from Florida to Maine. Major support for our work comes from grants from the Lawrence and Lillian Solomon Foundation, the Rails to Trails Conservancy and the DCR Recreational Trails Program.

Since 1993 Bike to the Sea, Inc. (B2C) has led the effort to build the Northern Strand Community Trail, an off-road low stress shared-use path that links together the communities of Everett, Malden, Revere, Saugus and Lynn.

Utilizing the abandoned Saugus Branch railroad corridor the “Strand” is a bona fide rails-to-trails project.

Comprised of more than 150 members, B2C hosts our annual Bike to the Sea Day Ride every June as well as monthly fun rides throughout the year, but we are much more than a riding club!

B2C partners with each city and town along the trail to bring resources and help the communities fulfill their vision for the multi-use path. From building the trail to advocating for bicycle accommodations on local roads, safety fairs and a range of community development projects, B2C works for bike safety as well as great and safe places to ride, walk and live!

Your valuable membership will help improve the trail and assist B2C’s long-range initiatives including: trail development in Lynn, paving the Revere and Saugus segments and eventually launching a community bike shop.
